by the Atlanta Business Chronicle

It is an honor for any international company to be nominated. A nomination represents a positive impact in the State of Georgia. Companies were measured by their direct involvement in the community, how many local people they employ, participation in community activities, and quality of product and services offered. The Atlanta Business Chronicle selected amongst international companies who have established a successful operation in Georgia. This award highlights their contributions to the community as well as helps promote Georgia to other international companies looking to expand in the State. The International Company of the Year award speaks to the hard work and dedication of the entire FELLFAB® Atlanta Team. Through its positive contributions in the community, FELLFAB® is a model Corporate Citizen.
